

WORK SHEET – EXERCISE 6D

Situations for role plays

Here are some situations you can use as topics for role plays or sketches. A plays the role of the one who's afraid and B helps them. C plays the role of the observer, like a director or a camera. They are not allowed to speak during the role play. Afterwards you take turns, so everyone plays all three characters.

A new student arrives at the school. He doesn't dare to join the others.

A child must recite a poem, answer a question or present something in front of the class.

A child doesn't dare climb up a climbing wall or on a beam.

Important test or exam!
A student doesn't feel ready at all.

A student did something foolish and is afraid of being scolded.